A UTAH COMMISSIONER'S OPINION OF MR. TUCKER'S BILL.

Fraternal Speech-The Newport New Matter-Total of the Mother of Washington

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Wasmingros, January 20.—One of the Utah commissioners now in the city says that the Mormons are utterly incorrigable. He thinks that their heirarchy will be overthrown only when they are completely outnumbered and surrounded on all soles by citizens op-posed to polygany and the other Mor-mon heresics and a sustrosities of belief and practice. The law has, however, operated so as to put in prison 125 and to disfranchise 15,000 Mor-mons. The bill passed the other day, a his opinion, will greatly strengthen the arm of authority

NEWFORT NEWS. In the Newport News matter Messrs. De Clay and Cartis concluded the arguments in behalf of those who seek a of gentlemen interested one way or an other in the question, among them Mr. Wise and ex-Representative Harris, the latter of whom is the attorney of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. A memoral of shippers in favor of the chance was rend to the committee. The hear-ing in this case is concluded, but the committee did not make up its mind to-day. There will be a meeting of the sub-committee to-morrow, at which the subject will be considered. THE MOTHER OF WASHINGTON. Mahone introduced a bill to-day to provide for the erection of a monument at Fredericksburg to the memory of Mary the mother of Washington. The bill appropriates $20,000. The resolu-tions adopted by the House of Repre-entatives in 1874 are to be followed. There is to be a lot of thirty-four feet square, title of which the city of Fredericksburg is to guarantee, with right of way to the monument.

The six French spoilation claims before the Judiciary Committee were referred to a sub-committee to-day consisting of Messrs, Tucker, Collins, Ingalls and the Crain constitutional amendments, as to the time of manguration of the Government and of the beginning of congressional ses-sions, were referred to-day to a subcommittee consisting of ? Tucker, Collins, and Caswell. Tucker, Collins, and Caswell. The former amendment proposed to have the imagnitation of the President on the 10th of April, the day when Washington was imagnized. Mr. Crain's amendment, recently printed in full in this place, provides that the terms of Congress shall end on the 31st of December and begin on the second. Tuckers of Language. day of January.

A GRAND AFFAIR.

THE DINNER TO THE CABINET GIVES YESTERDAY.

Governor and Mrs. Lee Among the Guests-The Table and the Decorations.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

Washington, D. C., January 20.-Fog the first dinner to the Cabinet given by the President and Mrs. Cleve land the White House was most attractively prepared. In the East room the east window was filled with great palms and curious-leaved rubber plants. The mantels were banked with cut dowers, the pillars wreathed with edar and hung with four large shields in colors. The chande-tiers were festooned in smilax, and the mirror shelves filled with blooming plants. The window recesses and the ire-places, the corners of the rooms. and the nooks on every hand were filled with green, and even the tops of the doors were crowned with plants. Throughout the other rooms and the corridors trees and potted plants were set in every available space. The dining-room was resplendent. The west mantel was banked with red camelias, and fringed with long-stemmed roses. The east mantel was filled with pots of blooming plants, and fringed with meadow-grass.

A BIG CANOE.

The central decoration of the table was a big canoe of red and white came lias, with the sails of smilax, twined Its cargo was roses, lilies of the valley, and smilax. The mirror-lined epergrewas edged with rosebuds, tulips, and camelias. On either end of the canoe were high dishes of fruit, and at each end were high stands of long-stemmed roses. Outside of the epergne were two flat cushions of variegated flowers orchids, red and yellow roses, tulips and carnations. The table was laid with the usual conserves, almonds and olives, confectioneries, and fancy pieces. COVERS POR THIRTY.

Covers were laid for thirty. At each plate were seven wine-glasses, a goblet for water, and a carafe. The dinner-eard was gilt-edged, and for each lady was a bouquet of roses, and for the men beutomicres of rosebuds.

The hour for the dinner was 7:30. By 7 o'clock the Speaker of the House and Mrs. Carlisle arrived, and were con followed by ex-Senator and Mrs. Henry G. Davis. Soon after came Governor and Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, of

The President and Mrs. Cleveland received the guests in the East room as they arrived. The Secretary of the In erior was late. It was for some mo ments feared that he would not at all, and at last when he and his bride did appear even the musicians of the Marine Band leaned forward with espectful curiosity.

The Secretary and Mrs. Lamar en ered together, he supporting her by the arm. She drew a long, square black velvet train after her. The pair art of about the same height, and both are medium-sized. Mrs. Lamar looks no younger than her years—sixty—but her expression is agreeable and she re-tains a good deal of the beauty for which she was once celebrated at her hetne. Her gray hair was combed low in flat waves. In the East room, where the introductions were going on, the Secretary held her gently by the arm as he presented the guests, after first pay-ing their respects to the President and Mrs. Cleveland.

THE MARCH TO THE DINING-ROOM. When the guests were all assembled, and the introductions were all made the band struck up a march and the President, with Mrs. Manning, moved down the Red corridor toward the State dining-room, the rest of the company following in this order: The Secresary of the Treasury and Mrs. Endicott Secretary Endicott and Mrs. Vilas Secretary Whitney and Mrs. Lamar the Postmaster-General and Mrs. Sher man, Secretary Lamar and Mrs. Ca isle, Speaker Carlisle and Mr Harmony, Senator Sherman and Mrs. Sheridan, General Sheridan and Mrs. Lee, Governor Lee and Mrs. Andrew, Mr. Henry G. SPIES'S FREE LOVE. His Sentiments Not Pleasing to the Mother of His Fiancee. [By telegraph to the Dispatch.] Chicago, January 20.—A reporter called last evening at the Van Zan it residence and was received by Mrs. Van Zandt. Her attention was called to an "After all the refusal to permit the marriage ceremony makes little difference It is only an empty formality. The young lady has too liberal ideas to be affected by the despotic order. We will waive all ceremony, and when the time comes live as husband and wife."

Spies said that he was a believer in free love in a spiritualistic form. Van Zandt's eyes flashed as she said: "I would rather see my daughter lying dead before me than living on such terms with any man. I would kill her with my own hands first. If that is the kind of a man Spies is I am glad we have found it out in time." Mrs. Van Zandt, speaking of the manner in which she became acquainted with the Anarchists, said: "We all work a great deal among poor people.

I became first interested in the Anarchists because I thought I could do them good. Then I arrived at the belief that they were innocent men, and I grew to like Spies personally. Bold Attempt at Train-Robbery.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)
CHICAGO, January 20.—A special to the Times from Marshall, Mo., says A bold attempt at train-robbery of the St. Louis train on the Chicago and Alton railroad took place last night about 8 o'clock. Three miles east of Independence, Mo., the train was brought to a standstill by a violent pulling of the bell-eord. The brakeman and conductor rushed through to the forward part of the train to ascertain the cause of the stopping, when they were fired upon by a men standing on the front platform of the smoking-car and ordered back into the ars. They barely escaped injury by dodging back into the car. The er gineer was also fired upon, but not in jured. Four or five shots were fired The would-be robbers then jumped from the car and escaped in the dark ness. After a few minutes' delay the train started on its way.

Sale of Tilden's Personal Property. [By telegraph to the Dispatch.] New York, January 20.—The sale, under the direction of the executors of the late Samuel J. Tilden, of his horses and carriages, harness, cattle, poultry sleighs, and wagons began to-day at the American Horse Exchange. There was a large attendance of his friends and dealers in stock. Pick-pockets were on hand, too. They stole a valuable gold watch from Rev. Dr. Yocum, of Port Richmond, Staten Island. Good prices were realized on most of the stock.

The boys, with the sympathy and encour-agement of the strikers, were flouting, jeering, and snowballing the Pinkerton men, who were stationed in the com pany's yards to protect property. Four of the shooters were arrested and taken to jail to await examination on the charge of homicide.

Fatal Fire in New York.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] New York, January 20.—A broke out this afternoon in the engine room of the store at No. 49 Vesey street, occupied by the Centennia American Tea Company. The building was completely gutted. The loss is estimated at about $37,000. While the fire was in progress Lineman Frederick Simons, of the Electric Light Company, climbed a pole to cut the electric wires leading into the store. In the act he received a shock which paralyzed him He fell to the ground, striking on his head, and died in ten minutes. A number of girls working on the upper floor in a feather-duster factory were panie-stricken by the smoke. Several fainted away. All were brought out safely. NEW YORK, January 20.—There was a moderate degree of activity in the stock market to-day, although nearly one third of the day's business was transacted in the first hour. Dealings were marked with considerable feverishness, especially in the forenoon, notwinstanding the fact that the general feeling was mildly confident. Reading became the leader both as to the amount of business done and interest in trading. Although nothing new of impognance was developed, rumors were heard in regard to the favorable outcome of the reorganization and more amicable relations with the Pennsylvania railroad. Other coal stocks, however, did not share in the strength displayed by Reading, and Jersey Central was especially weak. Richmond and West Point showed considerable weakness, and retired to a secondary place in trading. New England, however, azain came to the front, and the stock was strong upon good buying, reputed being for Boston account, and trading was accompanied by a story that the company had acquired control of the House for laidy denied. Hocking Valley became reminent in the afternoon and next to Jersey Central was the weakest stock on the list. Canada Southern showed some weakness early in the day, but the remainder of the general list was steady to firm. The opening this morning was fairly steady and changes either way were for insignificant fractions only, except or Richmond and West Point, Coalers and St. ST, LOUIS. ST. LOUIS.
